

MADAGASCAR NAVAL BASE SURRENDERED

Meandering Along the Main Stem

By WASH FAYETTE

His eyes were shining with enthusiasm and a wide-awake smile was on his face. He showed me a $25 war bond which he had just purchased and he was proud. His name is Billy Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Condon Campbell, and we are happy to say he is a regular newspaper carrier on the Record-Herald force. He told me he had bought this bond out of savings, every cent of which he had earned by himself and I am happy to note that his parents were just as proud of his accomplishment as he was. He is saving to buy another bond and there are several of the other Record-Herald carriers as well as all the regular staff of employees on this newspaper who are doing the same thing and putting a far greater share of their earnings into war stamps and bonds than many other people who prefer to "let George do it."

I got a real kick out of young Campbell's pride and enthusiasm and it set me to wondering if I and a lot of other adults are doing all we can in this war effort.

When I walked into the clothing department of Craig Brothers Store, Wednesday afternoon, and saw an unusually happy smile on the face of Ray Maynard, head of the department, I started casting around to see why the wherefore.

Then I happened to notice Bud Karney, of Bloomingburg, putting the finishing touches on some attractive new cases for men's suits, overcoats and other clothing.

I also noted that the beautiful new oak cases, which occupy a great deal less room than the old cases, and offer better display, were equipped with fluorescent lights which showed the colors of the suits and overcoats in their natural shades. This means that no more customers will walk to the front or back of the store in search of daylight to determine the color of the garment.

I noticed that more sales room is provided in the arrangement of new cases, as well as better display.

Bud certainly demonstrated his skill in making those new cases, and Ray knows it will be easier selling clothing by reason of the better display and lighting.

Full daylight has been let into the interior of the Wade and Boyd Shoe Store by reason of recently installed fluorescent light in indirect setting.

The new system of lighting simply takes away all glare and shadows, and produces a daylight effect which shows shoes and other goods in their natural shades. At the same time the lights are easy on one's eyes.

It is a real joy to see a room so perfectly lighted.

WRECKAGE OF PLANE BEING INVESTIGATED

Commander of First Air Force Believed Victim

LOS ANGELES, May 7.—(AP)—Wreckage tentatively identified as that of the army transport which carried Maj. Gen. Herbert A. Dargue, commander of the first air force, and seven others to death December 12 has been discovered in Southern California.

G. B. Burns, of Spokane, Wash., father of Lieut. Homer C. Burns, co-pilot of the plane, and other relatives discovered the wreckage at dusk last night. The location was kept secret until the army can send a party to the scene today and post guards.

Burns told army air force officials he found his son's belt and saw one body and scattered clothing. He did not probe the wreckage, leaving that to the army.

Auto Seizure Bill Criticized Harshly By Foes in Senate

WASHINGTON, May 7.—(AP)—Endorsement by seven government officials of a proposal to requisition private automobiles moved Senator Johnson (D-Colo.) today to declare that the American people were being "pushed around to satisfy the egotism of some bureaucrats."

Johnson was one of several senators opposing a bill to authorize the government to confiscate private motorcars or parts, and to seize the auto of anyone convicted of driving faster than 40 miles an hour.

In the midst of this flare-up, the Office of Price Administrator sent out instructions to local rationing boards in 17 eastern seaboard states and the District of Columbia limiting "non-essential" motorists to from two to six gallons of gasoline a week after May 15.

The weekly allowance may be changed from time to time, depending "entirely on the supply" available, OPA said.

Price Administrator Leon Henderson and Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson were among the seven government officials who urged the Senate Military Committee yesterday to approve the automobile seizure-and-pay bill as part of the campaign to save rubber for military uses.

Johnson told reporters he was satisfied there was sufficient legal authority now for the government to take over any equipment it needed in the war program, and he saw no need for new legislation.

REDS CAPTURE NAZI POSITION

Fierce Fighting Reported in Northern Russian Front;
RAF Raids Continue

(By The Associated Press)

Russian dispatches reported that the Red armies, attacking across bogs in an important sector west of long-besieged Leningrad, had captured a junction point which the Germans had held all winter, and thus had cut the road between the northern and southern wings of the German siege armies.

Hitler's field headquarters said heavy casualties had been inflicted on the Russians in violent fighting in the north and reported a "lull on large sections of the front" elsewhere.

In aerial warfare, British bombers struck for the third successive night and streaked across the channel again by daylight to pound the German-held French "invasion coast."

Cattle Shipments Slump When Ceiling Proposed

By WILLIAM FERRIS

CHICAGO, May 7.—(AP)—Cattle producers, reacting quickly to sharp price declines since the office of price administration's announcement that ceilings would be imposed on dressed beef, have reduced substantially shipments to all major markets.

A drop of 25 cents to $1 a hundred pounds in value late week, followed by another 50 cent decline Monday, convinced producers their best bet in resisting the downturn was to curtail marketings. Livestock circles acknowledged today producers had gone into curtailment with a vengeance.

Cattle offered for sale in 12 principal centers in the first three days this week totaled 102,300 head against 129,800 in the comparable 1941 days. In the same period, 149,200 salable head arrived.

This contrasted with April, when 767,439 salable head arrived at the same 12 markets compared with 659,696 in April, 1941. For the first four months this year salable receipts total 2,996,157 head against 2,521,271 in 1941.

A feature of the cattle runs was the practically complete absence of choice or prime steers. With packers reducing the premiums normally paid for such offerings, the supply has consisted mainly of mediocre grades. Early last week, before the OPA's order, choice cattle brought $17.25 a hundred pounds at Chicago. The top this week, established Wednesday, was $15.50 for much less attractive quality.

The OPA's order sets dressed beef ceilings, both wholesale and retail, at the highest prices prevailing during March. Livestock circles said that during April cattle prices had risen above March quotations. If dressed beef could not be sold above March peaks, they said, it therefore would be necessary to lower cattle prices.

Producers' reductions in shipments resulted in a fairly stabilized market Tuesday and Wednesday. Packers, confronted with the small supply, were anxious to get anything available. But whether the market could hold under normal receipts was debatable, livestock men said.

Capture of Corregidor Is Described By Japs; Fierce Fight Revealed

TOKYO (From Japanese Broadcasts), May 7.—(AP)—Imperial headquarters announced today that Japanese forces had completed occupation of Corregidor and other fortified islands in Manila Bay by 8 A. M. today, Tokyo time (7 P. M. Wednesday, EWT).

Japanese dispatches said Lieut. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright and his staff surrendered to the Japanese on Malinta Hill, central point of the fortified island.

A Domei dispatch from "a Japanese base in the Philippines" gave this version of the last hours of Corregidor:

"Under cover of darkness and an intensive rolling artillery barrage, Japanese expeditionary forces which had been biding their time since the complete occupation of Bataan Peninsula swarmed across the narrow channel separating Corregidor from the mainland at 8:30 P. M. Tuesday (7:30 A. M. Eastern War Time) in an all out offensive to crush General Jonathan Wainwright's beleaguered Filipino-American forces.

"The invasion of the American stronghold was carried out by boats heavily laden with Japanese shock troops which passed through mine-studded waters around Corregidor Island.

"The initial landing was effected at 11 P. M. when a three-column Japanese invasion party crossed over to Corregidor in the face of terrific enemy fire, with the second and third landing parties following in their wake in rapid succession in the early hours of Wednesday.

"Smashing their way through barbed wire entanglements and other fortifications, Japanese forces with bayonets and sabers bared for action plunged into enemy positions, engaging the enemy in sanguinary hand-to-hand fighting.

"The Japanese troops destroyed enemy resistance along the shores of the island, battled their way into the interior of the island as the initial landing parties.

PRESIDENT OF PERU TO VISIT ROOSEVELT

MIAMI, Fla., May 7.—(AP)—President Manuel Prado of Peru, who today named President Roosevelt in Washington, said upon his arrival in the United States at Miami that the war had strengthened Pan-Americanism "and this is indeed, the best guarantee of victory."

A giant four-engine stratosphere bore the visiting chief executive and his staff of 13 across the Caribbean from the Panama Canal Zone. A military welcome and the applause of spectators were added to official greetings from government and city officials.

11,574 CAPTIVES TAKEN BY JAPS ON CORREGIDOR

WASHINGTON, May 7.—(AP)—The War Department announced today that approximately 11,574 soldiers, sailors, marines and civilians presumably were captured by the Japanese on Corregidor and the other Manila Bay forts.

ALLIED OUTLOOK STILL CLOUDED

Attack on Hawaii, Alaska and Even Russia Possible
Before Offense Started

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
(By The Associated Press)

General Douglas MacArthur's Far Pacific headquarters reported today that increased Japanese naval activity had been observed in the waters around New Britain, perhaps signalling a new southward thrust against Australia's life-lines or against the "down under" commonwealth itself.

The 100-mile waterway between New Britain and New Guinea would be the natural gateway for a Japanese seaborne attack against Australia's east coast.

Military observers pointed out that with the fall of Corregidor, large numbers of Japanese troops and equipment have now been released for duty elsewhere, and they recalled that so far in the war the Japanese have been swift to strike in a new direction after each.

China May Be Next
Flushed with their conquests in Burma and the Philippines, the Japanese war lords were expected by military strategists today to turn in full fury on China in an effort to knock out that potentially powerful United Nations force.

As the war in the Pacific entered its sixth month, these military experts pointed out, however, that the headlong rush of the Japs had carried them to a point where they might turn in any of several directions. Their only reasonably sure course will be an attempt to cut the supply line to Australia.

Five New Threats
Experts here view the possibilities in order of their probable occurrence thus:

1. A pincer's squeeze on China, one main force striking from the north and the other from the south, the latter employing the armies already emerging from Burma into China.

2. An attack on Russia, which military men unanimously agree the Japanese will undertake sooner or later. The timing is almost certain to depend on developments.

BULLETIN

VICHY, Unoccupied France
May 7.—(AP)—An announcement that Diego Suarez, main stronghold on French Madagascar, still was holding out at 1:30 P. M. Vichy Time (7:30 A. M. E. W. T.) was issued here today.

It was insisted that this was based on the latest information from Madagascar and was issued "in answer to a report" (presumably the British announcement) that the naval base had surrendered.

By NOLAN NORGAARD

LONDON, May 7.—(AP)—France's Diego Suarez Bay fortifications, the best naval base of Madagascar, have fallen to British forces which landed at dawn Tuesday, and "terms of surrender" are now being drawn up, officials announced today.

Prime Minister Churchill told the House of Commons that the British fleet was expected to enter Diego Suarez harbor about 3:30 P. M., but added that the first assault Tuesday may have cost more than 1,000 men.

The War Office, the Admiralty, the Ministry of Information, military commentators and Prime Minister Churchill contributed to details of the conquest intended to block the Japanese threat to Indian ocean supply lines.

The village of Diego; Antsirana, the chief port of north Madagascar; and the Diego Suarez naval base were won in swift succession by the operations of British sea, land and air forces within less than 48 hours after they established a beachhead.

While the fall of Diego Suarez constitutes a major victory in the British campaign, which started at dawn Tuesday, considerable further resistance may be expected from the remainder of the island's 5,000,000 French and native population.

Under orders from France's pro-German Premier Pierre Laval to fight to the end, the island's defenders presumably will offer stiff opposition at Tananarive, the capital, on a plateau in the center of the island, and at Tuléar, the site of a big air base, in the southwest.

British infantry preceded by naval bombers charged a strong French position—protected by 75-millimeter field guns and machine-guns—a few miles outside of Antsirana, the chief town of the harbor area, and opened the way for its capture.

The French batteries and machine-gun nests were pulverized by British bombs and shell-fire from guns the British were able to land.

COPPER, BRASS, BRONZE GO ON WAR-BAN LIST NOW

WASHINGTON, May 7.—(AP)—The War Production Board today prohibited the use of copper, brass or bronze after May 31 in more than 100 additional civilian commodities—including pins, Christmas tree bulbs, neon and fluorescent lighting for advertising signs, musical instruments, cooking utensils and electric razors.

SECAUCUS, N. J., May 7.—(AP)—A father registered his family for sugar ration books and was back within an hour demanding another book.

He had become a father again while signing up. The board telephoned the hospital to learn the new arrival's weight, height, color of hair and eyes, and gave the proud father another book.

Here's Tale of Courage!

Christy Mathewson, Jr., Made Captain in Air Corps When
He Overcomes Handicap of Loss of Leg While Flying

SANANAC LAKE, N. R., May 7.—(AP)—Sheer courage against physical handicaps has won for Christy Mathewson, Jr., son of the late baseball immortal, a captaincy in the United States Air Corps.

The promotion marks a major uphill step for the 35-year-old air corps officer who, as a flying instructor for the Chinese government in 1932, lost a leg and severely injured an arm in an airplane crash. The crash cost the life of his bride.

That would have ended the flying career of a less determined man. But the name Mathew-son has become synonymous with determination.

The flyer's father, whose name was a byword with baseball-loving America, had fought a five year battle against tuberculosis which cut short his pitching career. He was gassed while overseas after volunteering for service in World War I, leading to the disease which took his life here in 1925.

Obtaining an artificial leg, "Matty, Jr." finally persuaded air corps officials he still could fly—and what is more important, that he hadn't lost his nerve. They gave him a post in the intelligence service.

CHARGE FORMER DOG WARDEN IS 'SHORT' $4,323

Examiner Claims Andy C. Nelson Sold Dogs and Kept the Money

Findings against Andy C. Nelson, former Fayette County Dog Warden, in the amount of $4,323.50 is made in the report of the examination of the books of Fayette County, by Freeman A. Smith, state examiner, and a copy of which reached County Auditor Roy Baughn and Prosecutor John Hill on Thursday.

In the report Nelson is alleged to have sold an average of 392 dogs to the Ohio State University each year for the past 10 years, the University using the dogs for scientific purposes, and the examiner charges that Nelson failed to pay into the County Treasury a total of $4,323.50 due the county during the 10 year period, and lists the amount for recovery through legal proceedings.

Nelson resigned his job last January 4, after the State Examiner had called a halt to the allegedly loose methods employed by the dog warden. The examiner holds that the $4,323 must be paid to the county treasury by Nelson or his bondsmen.

The examiner said Nelson used the $4,323.50 as extra income from his dog business during the previous ten years. In that period he gave the treasury only $1,476 from his dog sales, records showed.

Nelson insists that he gave the county all that was due it—that the extra money was obtained from the sale of dogs that he had purchased from the Greene and Pickaway county dog catchers.

But the state examiner could only find where he had purchased 66 dogs from Greene County, and asserted that available records showed most of the dogs were of Fayette County nativity.

Held responsible for return of the $4,328 to the County treasury along with Nelson was Oliver S. Nelson, brother who was on his $500 bond during the period. Forrest P. Smith and Charles Gerstner were co-bondsmen with Oliver S. Nelson for one year each, the examination shows.

The audit made by the state examiner covers activities of the former dog warden from Feb. 17, 1932 to December 31, 1941, although the remainder of the audit, in which small sums for return are listed, covers from February 20, 1940 to August 31, 1941.

The examiner cites the section of law applying to the retention of funds derived from the office, as follows:

"Section 3651-12 General Code: 'All funds received by the dog warden or pound keeper in connection with the administration of this act shall be deposited in the county treasury and placed to the credit of the dog and kennel fund.'"

It is also pointed out that no weekly reports were made by Nelson and that his reports, made at several month intervals, were from the claims presented by the owners of animals killed or damaged by dogs.

The big decrease in revenue due to falling off of the number of dogs licensed, is also mentioned in the report.

It is pointed out that from February 17, 1932 until December 31, 1936, the contract between the County Commissioners and Nelson did not mention sale of dogs to the State University, but on December 31, 1936 the contract and subsequent contracts specified that while Nelson was authorized to sell unclaimed dogs to the State University for scientific purposes, he would be allowed $1 per dog for feeding and delivering, and all money received from the sale of such dogs was to be paid into the County treasury. The price ran from $1.50 to $2 per dog, delivered at the university, it was stated.

The amount which the examiner claims is due the county from Nelson, is listed by the year as follows: 1932—$456, 1933—$519, 1934—$734.50, 1935—$734, 1936—$495, 1937—$361, 1938—$255, 1939—$246.50, 1940—$222, 1941—$300.

The total amount received for dogs during the 10 years is given as $5,973.50 of which $4,323.50 is not accounted for, the report claims.

MEN ARE NEEDED FOR JOBS AT PEARL HARBOR

Civil Service Representative Coming Here Friday To Recruit Laborers

If there are any laborers in Fayette County, between the ages of 18 and 62 years, who would like to go to Pearl Harbor to do their part in the country's war effort, they will have their chance Friday to get complete information from a representative of the Federal Civil Service Commission.

Charles Dunton, manager of the United States Employment Service office here, said a government man would be here Friday to recruit laborers for the Pearl Harbor defenses.

Dunton said the requirements were not too rigid, and that the pay is at the rate of 62 cents per hour for an 8-hour day. A fourth grade education is required.

Dunton said he had not been advised what type of labor was needed but declared that "all of those questions will be answered by the Civil Service Commission's representative when he comes here Friday." The interviews will be held at the USES or Employment Security Center office, 104 East Market Street.

It was not said at what time he would arrive but Dunton said he thought it would probably be not later than midmorning. The appeal for these laborers was given a patriotic tone by D. C. Whelan, manager of the Sixth Civil Service district when he said in a message to Dunton "Uncle Sam needs these workers at once. It is an opportunity for patriotic workers to do their part in strengthening the defense of our country. It is their chance to do their part in making it possible to hit the Japs with a two-fronted attack that much sooner and harder."

Dunton said applicants would have enough money to take them to Mare Island, Calif., where their pay starts and continues while enroute on the ship. Single men, he added, are preferred but said married men were acceptable but that they would have to leave their families at home. In Hawaii, Dunton said, the men pay their own living expenses and while they are to work on private construction jobs, they are to be under government supervision.

MAKES FINDING AGAINST CITY

Keeping City Prisoners Is Paid for by County Illegally

State Examiner Freeman A. Smith, in his report of an audit of the county books from February 20, 1940 to August 31, 1941, makes a finding of $615 against the City of Washington which, he charges, was paid illegally by Fayette County when the city should have paid it for maintenance of prisoners.

Of the total, $242 is for board of prisoners in the county jail, sentenced under city ordinances, and $373 was for city prisoners kept in the Dayton Workhouse.

It is noted that the City made no distinction between state and city prisoners.

Prosecutor John Hill last year called a halt on the practice, and since that time it has not been done.

REGISTRATION FOR SUGAR IS NEAR END HERE

Machinery, Jammed During First Day, Is Running Smoothly at Finish

Registration for sugar rations moved into the last day Thursday with the machinery running smoothly in Washington C. H. and Fayette County and a warning from the county's rationing administrator that "this will be absolutely the last time to register for War Ration Book No. 1."

The registration, which was started Monday for its four-day run, has been held in the elementary schools in both city and county and the county's villages.

The first day was admittedly somewhat of a "nightmare," especially in the city when a fourth of its 10,000 men, women and children had to be registered in only five schools. But, from that time on, the task was speeded up and made much easier by the addition of registrars.

The administrator said as the last day started that "any person who has not registered, regardless of the alphabetical arrangement, should register this (Thursday) evening." The registration is supposed to come to an end at 10 P. M.

On Wednesday, 4,366 applications were filed and 4,132 ration books issued. Of these, 2,525 registered on this, the third day, in the city and 2,417 books were issued and in the rural sections and villages of the county there were 1,841 registrations with 1,715 ration books issued.

Retailers are now selling sugar on the rationed basis. There were many unusual incidents during the registration which broke the monotony for the weary registrars. There was one man who came back the day after he had registered and wanted another book—he had forgotten one of his nine children. There was the man who could not think of his wife's first name. One man registered for a baby only three hours old.

Penn said he felt certain the registration would be completed "without trouble" at the end of

BE ON GUARD

Almost any place where a group is gathered in this city or county and the talk inevitably swings around to the war, one hears creeping into the conversations some fear expressed that our eagerness and enthusiasm for an "all out" war effort may lead us unwittingly into a dangerous alliance with Communism.

This talk is not confined to groups here but undoubtedly is quite widespread over the nation.

In this connection we have noted with considerable interest the conclusion of a New York legislative committee, that Communism may menace the United States even more in the future than it has in the past and should not be brushed aside casually just because Russia happens to be our military ally for the moment.

Neither should the danger be minimized on any theory that radicalism is a problem peculiar to New York, or to the larger cities generally. There is ample evidence of its nation-wide activity.

The committee's statement is partially limited by the fact that the legislators were restricted to the relatively narrow field of Communist activity centering in the public school system of a single city.

Handicapped thus, after 16 months of intelligently arduous digging the New York committee warns that Communism and Communists are not working for the benefit of the United States, or for the cause of democracy. They are working for Communism.

Noting that there is no substantial evidence that Communism's 20-year designs to instigate a proletarian revolution in the United States have been abandoned, or will be, the legislators note the assumption that "the subversive tactics which have been temporarily disguised will emerge again.

"If, in the meantime, the Communists succeed in extending their influence under cover of their present pseudo-patriotic garb, while we naively take them at face value and permit ourselves to be hoodwinked into a false sense of security, we will find to our sorrow that the problem will be more acute in days to come than it has in the past."

This is true of the schools, of which primarily it was said. It is true equally of all government services, and of those trades unions serving key industries, upon which Communist organizers have concentrated.

This is not an argument of red-baiters. The men who directed the inquiry were known for liberalism, to the extent that some had been accused of radicalism.

This is not to suggest that we relax in the slightest our all-out effort to help Stalinist Russia against Nazi Germany.

Washington at a Glance

By Charles P. Stewart

Wartime Washington falls out over itself in every direction. There's no denying that. About 10,000 different emergency details require attending to and no doubt it would be desirable to have a separate agency specializing on each naturally-related bunch of them. The trouble with the agencies is that they were created so fast that they themselves don't know which is which.

When some problem needs to be solved, eight or ten of these groups immediately are on hand to solve it, but, pretty confusingly, they almost invariably do it in eight or ten conflicting, contradictory ways. Put together and averaged, they don't make sense.

The current mix-up between Lowell Mellett's Office of Government Reports, Archibald MacLeish's Office of Facts and Figures and Colonel "Wild Bill" Donovan's Office of Co-ordination of Information is characteristic of the state of affairs.

Each is supposed to be a source of enlightenment to the public relative to Uncle Sam's activities in the present world conflict's midst. What puzzles an investigator, though, is that, after consulting all three of them, he discovers that the conclusions Lowell's drawn from his reports, the facts and figures Mac has to quote and the information "Wild Bill's" co-ordinated don't square with one another a bit.

It isn't alone that effort is duplicated; the confusion nullifies it.

Administrative Jam

Congress recently took notice of the seriousness of the administrative jam, and decided, first to investigate, and then to correct it. Some agencies, it was argued, ought to be abolished; others ought to be consolidated; all of them ought to be streamlined out.

Thereupon a legislative investigation was decreed. It's in progress today. Three separate committees of lawmakers are conducting it. They overlap just as much as any three executive agencies do.

Why one single committee wouldn't be enough nobody explains.

It takes two congressional committees to investigate a certain lone incident—the disastrous fire aboard the steamship Normandie.

Just one committee, for a fact, has been wrestling with the issue of legislation to put a ceiling on industrial profits and wages, but that committee has been split 50-50 right along.

So Congress can't very well pretend that it's much more cohesive than the executive bureaus are.

Flashes of Life

Not Busy Enough with 165 Alarms
SPRINGFIELD, Mo.—(P)—Diary of a Springfield fireman summarizes his company's activities for one month as follows: Answered 165 alarms; washed the dust from College Street; rescued one cat; put up an aerial for radio; stopped a leaky refrigerator; took down a beauty shop sign and kept the flag on Public Square untangled on windy days.

Stop, Tire Thief!

LOS ANGELES—(P)—Ed Pearce, artist, has his own way of warning tire thieves. Inside the hubcap of each wheel is a picture of a man behind bars, and lettered warning, "Don't Let This Happen to You."

Whisky, No Soda

LONDON—(P)—Arthur Coomber who bequeathed his wines, spirits and cigars to William Gilbert, Newmarket saddler, advised in his will: "that the very old whisky distilled in 1895 should not be mixed with soda, but be drunk either neat or with two-thirds plain water to one-third of whisky (about)"

Masquerading for Mary's Lamb

ENID, Okla.—(P)—Lamb's learn at an early age to recognize their mother or the person who feeds them. Everett Purcell says he has a farmer friend whose wife was bottle-feeding an orphan lamb. One night he was leading the lamb to a shed and the animal balked. So the farmer went into the house, dressed in his wife's coat and tied a kerchief around his head. The lamb fell for the deception and trotted right into the shed.

Hints on Etiquette

Today's Horoscope

The person who has a birthday today is conscientious, diligent and courageous. A keen mind is evidenced, but you make your own judgments slowly and only after careful study. Your married life will be happy. In the year just starting for you, do not let your emotions overcome prudence and common sense, and guard against deception in love and financial affairs. If you do this you will reap the financial benefits otherwise promised you. Born on this date a child will be liable to love or domestic troubles, especially if feminine. Such a one should be watchful against trickery and imposition. Elders will provide valuable help.

One-Minute Test Answers

1. Admiral Farragut at the Battle of Mobile Bay in the Civil War, when a ship ahead of his flagship had struck a mine, which was called a torpedo in those days.
2. A specialist in the care of the feet.
3. Fifty days. It was made in 1911, and was made by Calbraith Perry Rodgers flying a Wright pusher.

On the contrary, let us expand and speed up that program to the limit of our capacity.

But let us keep always close before our eyes the distinction between military Russia, which is helping us to beat the Axis, and Communism, which is declared to hate democracy as much as Nazism.

Ether First Used in Surgery 100 Years Ago Proves a Boon
By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

ABOUT ONE hundred years ago right this week some strange news was going about among the doctors in Georgia. A country practitioner in Jefferson, Georgia, had operated on March 30, 1842,

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

and had used ether to put the patient to sleep and had removed some tumors from his neck without any pain on the part of the patient.

Tried by Young Doctor

The doctor was Crawford Williamson Long, a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania Medical Department. He was then 26 years old and had only been in practice for a few years. This was the first time that ether had ever been deliberately used as a planned procedure for the purpose of making a patient unconscious and unaware of pain during a surgical operation. Indeed, except for a few sporadic and dubious trials at one time or another through the ages, it was the first time any agent had ever been used for that purpose.

Surgery before that must have been a horror to watch and to experience. The great thing about any operation was to get it over as fast as possible. He was the best operator who was the quickest. Sometimes opium and brandy were used and hypnosis was tried. The great French surgeon, Dupuytren, once made an insulting remark to a lady patient and when she fainted away from sensitiveness, operated on her before she had time to regain consciousness. But no method had been proved to be satisfactory.

The Doctor's Discovery

When Dr. Long was a student in Philadelphia, he and some other students used to inhale ether because they found its effects exhilarating, and when he started in practice in Jefferson some young men asked him to give them some laughing gas in order that they could have a good time at a party. He substituted ether and they found that it caused more liveliness than either laughing gas or brandy.

In fact, parties which were called "ether frolics" became quite the vogue. Dr. Long noticed that some of these young gentlemen under ether, while lying around, would injure themselves quite severely but appeared to take no notice of the pain. In this way the idea occurred to him that ether could be deliberately used to induce insensibility in surgical operations.

Early in March, in 1842, 100 years ago, his opportunity presented itself. A young man named James M. Venable had some tumors on his neck which he wanted removed but this he had postponed on account of the dread of pain involved. Dr. Long suggested to him that he could put him to sleep with ether and he would feel no pain. In his little office in a brick building which is still standing in Jefferson, Georgia, this was accomplished in the presence of witnesses who were friends of Mr. Venable.

Later Dr. Long operated on Mr. Venable again for the removal of other tumors on his neck, and during the year 1842 he operated several times under ether for such things as the amputation of a toe, all of which are a matter of record. Dr. Long did not make his discovery known to the medical world until after an operation in 1846 at the Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston. This has somewhat dimmed the fame of his credit, but it is curious for us today to think that this great boon to mankind is so young as to be only 100 years old.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

D. R. L.: What causes mastitis of the breast? Is it a curable disease and is it serious?

Answer: Mastitis is a chronic inflammatory change in the breast probably due to a disturbance in the endocrine function. Its greatest danger is that it will be mistaken for cancer because it causes lumps to appear in the breast and a diagnosis of cancer of the breast will be made. Treatment is best left to the discretion of the doctor.

H. S. Y.: In the past few years a large number of high school girls, including my own daughter, insist on wearing only anklets in the coldest weather and often no hats. Will this have any harmful effects, either now or in the future?

Answer: I am also old-fashioned enough to have this make me shudder, but candor compels me to admit that I have never seen any bad results from it.

SYNOPSIS

Three young airline hostesses, TIBBY LANE, sweet and natural; STEENA WINTERS, beautiful and sophisticated, and MARG BAKER, plain, sturdy and direct, share an apartment together in New York, where they are based. A friend of Tibby's, TOMMY DARE, is spending his first year out of medical school at a clinic in Brooklyn. Steena sets her cap for WAYNE COURTRIGHT, wealthy official of the airline.

YESTERDAY: After Tibby coldly dismisses Tommy Steena tells him that maybe SHE will welcome his advice some day.

CHAPTER EIGHTEEN

WAYNE COURTRIGHT had been right when he had told Tibby over the phone that she would find that her friend, Marg Baker, had become "quite a heroine." He had been right, too, when he had said she would read about it in the morning papers.

There was a picture of Marg—and one of Captain Mercer—on the front page. "Only, of course, it doesn't do her justice," Tibby commented loyally. "But just look what it says about her, Steena! 'Due credit is attributed to the stewardess,' Tibby read, 'for her steady nerve and calm fortitude. Captain Mercer said that Miss Baker was responsible for maintaining order and keeping up the spirits of the passengers until the rescue planes arrived. This must have been no easy task, as by the time help came, the weight of the ship having broken through the ice, water stood knee deep inside the cabin. The protruding wings kept the big plane from going under, but no one knew how much longer they could take this strain.' It must have been awful!" Tibby stopped reading to exclaim.

"I don't suppose it was exactly a comfortable spot to be in," Steena admitted. "I don't envy Marg the experience, even if she is a heroine now. Most chivalrous of Captain Mercer to give her so much glory, don't you think? Most men prefer to hog it all themselves, but evidently the captain admires Marg as much as she admires him—and you know how she raves on and on about him. I must say," she finished, picking up the paper, "that HIS picture does him justice. He's not bad looking at all—if you like that stocky, sturdy type." She put the paper down again, with a slight shrug that seemed to dismiss the subject for her. Then she added, significantly, "I wonder what the captain's wife will have to say to all this."

"What could she say?" Tibby spoke more sharply than she had meant to, but that was such an uncalculated remark. Tibby did not think that Marg raved "on and on" about Captain Mercer; she merely admired his ability as a pilot, an admiration that appeared warranted now.

Steena shrugged again. "Nothing—or lots of things," she said. "She may not be as generous as her husband, as anxious to give Marg all the spotlight. From what I hear, she is the sort of person who likes the center of the stage all to herself."

"Aren't you talking in riddles?" Tibby suggested. She thought Steena enjoyed dramatizing things too much. She knew, of course, what she meant—that Mrs. Mercer might be jealous of the praise Captain Mercer had bestowed on Marg; some wives were like that, about their husbands' secretaries or any other women who were thrown into contact with them.

"Maybe," Steena admitted. "But as I said before—I don't envy Marg her new position as a heroine. Sometimes it's wiser to keep out of the spotlight, you know. I tried to tell Marg that when I told her she ought not to be seen with Captain Mercer when off duty."

"But that was only that one time," Tibby objected.

"That's what YOU think!" Steena retorted. "Do you mean there has been more talk?" Tibby remembered what Steena had said about there being a grapevine system that spread all gossip around the field, often distorting the bare truth by embroidering it to much larger proportions. Maybe Steena was not imagining it all.

"I mean that Marg had darned well better watch her step," if Steena knew anything more definite than rumors, she evidently did not mean to pass it on just then. "You will recall that I told her that before. And that Marg lost her temper. She may lose more than that if she's not more careful. She's a very foolish girl to have ANYTHING to do with a married man."

Tibby felt rather sick, because she also felt certain that Steena did know something or she would not speak as she just had, with such certainty. "Marg has to fly with Captain Mercer," she defended her friend as best she could. "They are scheduled for the same flights."

"Marg could ask for a change in schedule," Steena said dryly. "If she were half as smart as she thinks she is, that's what she would do."

Tibby did not make any comment to that. If there were any rumors floating around that could be magnified, or if Marg had been seeing Captain Mercer when off duty, even if there was some explanation, that would be the wise thing to do. It would be very foolish, as Steena had said, to continue as hostess on the same flight schedule, if Marg or Captain Mercer found they felt any personal interest in one another. The company, as Steena also had mentioned before, would not stand for it, although that was not, to Tibby's mind, the most important issue.

Marg would get hurt again, for nothing good could possibly come from such an interest—only unhappiness, possibly real tragedy.

However, she would not believe any rumors, even if they reached her in concrete form. She would believe in Marg herself and her good common sense—if common sense could be counted on when you feel in love, if you could know, yourself, when that would happen. Tibby told herself that she was the one imagining and dramatizing now. When Marg came home, Tibby would be reassured that everything was all right. Marg was so straightforward and honest that she could not be doing underhanded things, even small ones like breakfasting with Captain Mercer, without a reasonable explanation; she could not be interested in or in love with someone without betraying it.

Tibby took what comfort she could out of this, but she resolved, just the same, to let out some kind of hint that it might be just as well for Marg to try to get a change in her flying schedule. Maybe Marg would not like it. She had lost her temper that time when Steena had done pretty much the same thing, only Steena had lost her, too. Tibby would be more tactful, since she was so very fond of Marg and would only be trying really to help her, although maybe Marg did not want help from anyone.

Certainly Marg did not look as if she needed any, when she came home. Tibby had never seen her looking better, as if the harrowing experience she had been through had given her new vitality, as though her role of heroine endowed her with a new radiance. Or was it something else, something that went much deeper, that gave Marg this sort of bloom, causing her plain face to have come alive, even her brown hair to hold a sheen of loveliness?

It is said, Tibby remembered, that only a woman in love and beloved looks like that, since love alone can add such luster, although couldn't it come just from BEING alive, when you had come so close to death? Of course it could; Tibby was allowing her imagination and the effect of Steena's words to run riot.

She said, "Oh, Marg, it's so good to have you back! I'm so PROUD of you, darling!" She wanted Marg to know that she would always be proud of her, always find it good to have her friendship.

Marg gave her a bear-like squeeze in response. "It's good to be back," she said. "You don't realize how good, until you come close to not making it, although there was not much doubt with Captain Mercer as pilot. As for your being proud of me, honey, that's the bunk. Captain Mercer is the one who deserves all credit. Oh, Tibby, he's so wonderful! There's no one like him. No one else could have done what he did. Such a man!"

"I'm sure he is," Tibby said, but her heart sank to her shoes. There was absolutely no doubt about it. Marg was in love. There was much more than admiration in her tone, respect for an able pilot. It was all there in her face for anyone to see—that she had given her heart to this man whose praises she sang.

Camouflage Becomes Fine Art in War

By DEVON FRANCIS

(Wide World News Service)

NEW YORK — To make a horse in these days of all-out air warfare, you need some lumber, wire, fabric and paint.

It is important to make dummy horses in wartime. It is important to make dummy houses, too, and dummy groves of trees and dummy highways.

It is important because the art of aerial photography has destroyed the value of ordinary camouflage paint in protecting airfields, factories and the like.

Making fairly good wood-and-wire horses is one of the newer arts which have grown out of the erasure of front lines by air power.

The horses are scattered over tactical flying fields in efforts to make them look like pasture land to enemy reconnaissance planes. The horses have to be moved occasionally, of course, because the enemy might become suspicious of a horse that stood in one spot day after day.

What the United Nations are doing to camouflage targets for enemy bombers often is necessarily secret, but what the Germans resort to was described the other day in a speech by Air Commodore H. N. Thornton, of the Royal Air Force, air attaché to the British Embassy in Washington.

He said the Germans had gone so far as to cover rivers with lattice work, usually resting on piles or rafts, with dummy buildings, trees and roads superimposed to blend in with the surroundings.

If the camouflage is good, it destroys the customary landmarks by which warplane navigators determine their positions.

The British understand that a million dollars was spent in hiding the Fokker aircraft factory at Amsterdam from the eyes of British airmen. Often, if important factories are located in isolated areas, dummy plants are built a short distance away. Fake flying fields are laid out in the vicinity of real ones.

Another trick: When a British night bombing attack begins, the Germans frequently light fires on open ground a short distance from the target to make later waves of bombers waste their loads. The fact that the British know what the Germans are doing infers that such tactics are not always successful.

Camouflage is as old as warfare. Troops hiding in a wood are camouflaging themselves. Camouflage to deceive prying eyes aloft is at least as old as America's war between the states. Both the union and confederate armies devised means to keep enemy observation balloons from spotting their movements.

Decoy camouflage to mislead enemy airmen, begun in World War I, is being brought to a high state of perfection now.

The Chinese began showing the way toward superlative decoy work when they enticed the Japanese into bombing rows of wood airplanes back in 1937. Belligerents in many parts of the world have adapted the Chinese technique and improved on it.

It does not do to build a decoy airfield and leave it naked to the eye and camera; that would be too obvious. The decoy itself must be camouflaged, but so clumsily as to lead the enemy to believe it is the real thing. A decoy factory must look like a real factory subjected to a bad camouflage job.

Camouflagers must be careful with their paint. Enemy airmen can spot paint laid on to look like a building because the shadow swabbed on one side fails to move with the sun. Painted buildings, in fact, are fast outliving their usefulness in this war. Stereoscopic photograph, which throws things into sharp relief, exposes the camouflage.

Mere wind exploded a clever piece of German camouflage. The Nazis had tried to hide an airfield by building across it what appeared at first glance to be a railroad line. They laid tattered strips of concrete across the field and filled the troughs with water to resemble shiny rails. British photographers found ripples on the rails.

So why not make washday an ounce instead of a ton by sending everything to the professional laundry? Child Study Club Entertained by Mrs. Frank Reno

Mrs. Frank Reno was a most cordial hostess to the Child Study Club, Wednesday evening.

Fourteen members answered the roll call.

Mrs. Paul H. Van Vorhis of this city and Mrs. Carol Morgan, of Circleville, were most welcome guests.

Mrs. Elfreda Blume read a very interesting paper on "The Foster Child."

Adoption is a legal procedure. Before the final step is taken, much investigation must be done both by those in possession of the child, and by the prospective parents. Many of the problems of foster and adoption parents are the same. Foremost among them is leading the child to feel secure in his new home. Hurry in any stage of the adoption, may lead to regrettable consequences.

Preparation for Training—When contemplating adoption the couple must make a thorough study of their own home situation. They must squarely face the fact of sacrifices to be made. The home is created for the child, not the child for the home.

When the child can understand it is wiser to tell him of his adoption than to have some older youngster break the news to him, as inevitably happens, then there is no fear of the foster child being hurt. Emphasis should be placed upon the fact that the foster parents wanted him more than any other child. The reason why his family could not keep him, must be passed over casually, and certainly the foster parents must place no blame upon the child's own family.

Through all experiences the true parent supports and stands back of the child—of all his children.

No money or luxury, no amount of this world's goods mean so much to the foster or adopted child as the knowledge that the family into which he has been taken, are his for the duration of his life.

Tempting refreshments served from small tables, centered with small vases of spirea and tulips, were enjoyed during the social hour following the meeting.

Hi-Y Sweetheart Banquet Held Wednesday Evening In High School Gymnasium

Dancing to Eddie Kadel's Band, of Springfield; Half-hundred Couples Present for Gay And Elaborate Affair

Eclipsing all previous affairs of its kind in beauty and color was the fifteenth annual Sweetheart Banquet of the Hi-Y of Washington High School.

The gymnasium of the high school had been transformed into a bower of spring beauty, with the gorgeous decorating for the affair. At one end of the long room, a large American Flag was unfurled, and at the opposite end a white lattice archway banked in spirea had been erected for the entrance. Green grass banked a small fish pond, and on the grass sloping from the floor up to the pool was a huge "V" made from blossoms of spirea, with the three dots and a dash formed by large snowballs. Directly over the pool hung two large red hearts, signifying the "Sweetheart Banquet."

Numerous large and small vases and baskets of iris, tulips, lilacs, flowering crab apple, honey suckle, snow balls and spirea were were arranged at most effective places. A bandstand had been erected on one side, with a background of red, white and blue curtains bearing Hi-Y emblems. A white lattice fence enclosed the band.

For the elaborate three-course banquet, the tables were arranged in the shapes of "V" with the speakers and officers' table at the front. Patriotic place cards, marked each cover, and the tables held centerpieces of exquisite shades of tulips.

George Spetnagle acted as toastmaster, and David Ellies gave the invocation. Eddie McCoy gave the welcome, followed by the beautiful "Star Dust" played on the flute by Carl Petkoff, a member of Hi-Y. A girls' trio, Misses Eleanor Paul, Elda Jayne Mossbarger and Jane Landrum sang very prettily, "Skylark" and "Moonlight Cocktail," two popular numbers. Group singing was led by Mrs. Paul Fitzwater.

The dancing, which followed was to the strains of Eddie Kadel and his band, from Springfield. The kaleidoscopic formal, together with colorful effects of the flowers, made a picture of loveliness never to be forgotten by the members.

MADAGASCAR NAVAL BASE SURRENDERED TO BRITISH BY FRENCH DEFENDERS

the parties moved on to capture Antsirana in the campaign launched at dawn Tuesday.

The French commanders surrendered, but some pockets of resistance remained, said a joint War Office and Admiralty communique.

"The main attack was launched from the south," the communique said, "but the landing of Royal Marines from the north created a valuable diversion."

Apparently referring to actions already announced by the French, officials said a French submarine and sloop had been sunk in Diego Suarez harbor in the attack upon Antsirana, where the French had developed the chief naval base of Madagascar.

A Vichy communique last night said "the fierce resistance of our troops considerably slackened the enemy progress" across the neck of the 1,000-mile-long island which is a strategic key to control of the Indian ocean.

The British, by accident or design, followed the pattern of the Japanese drive upon Singapore in striking by land from the rear instead of by sea in a frontal assault upon Diego Suarez, where naval guns command the eastern approaches.

It is eight miles by air from the mangrove-bordered shore of Courrier Bay east to Diego Suarez, but more than twice that distance over the rugged land across the isthmus and around Diego Suarez bay.

Axis radio broadcasts stressing difficulties of the defense and the numerical superiority of the British seemed to be preparing their listeners for loss of the base and observers said the French forces might take to the hills for guerrilla warfare.

He disclosed that preparations for occupation of the big island in the Indian ocean had been under way for three months.

In order to prevent bloodshed so far as possible, very strong forces of all arms were employed, the prime minister stated.

The French naval and military commanders have surrendered and Diego Suarez harbor has been captured, he asserted.

"We trust the French nation will in time come to regard this episode as a recognizable step in the liberation of their country, including Alsace-Lorraine, from the German yoke," Churchill declared.

4-H CLUB PARTY NEXT SATURDAY AT SUNNYSIDE

New Groups Being Formed by County's Rural Youth and Projects Being Started

The annual 4-H Club spring party for all boys and girls, participants of this year's and last year's 4-H club work, will be held Saturday evening at the Sunnyside School auditorium.

This has been an annual affair in the general 4-H Club program of the county for a number of years, and provides an evening of entertainment and good time. The program will be in charge of the 4-H Recreational Group members, an older group of boys and girls, interested in 4-H Club work and who have their own organization. The new officers, of this group are: president, Marilyn Wilt, secretary, Martha Lou Nisley; treasurer, Kattie Armbrust; news reporter, Lois Cavinee; music director, Bob Browning; pianist, Lois Cavinee and Lorie Merritt, and sports director, Jim Wolfe.

The 4-H Clubs of the county are busy getting organized at this time of the year with nearly 100 percent of the clubs' projects started.

CLUB ORGANIZES
The 4-H Club girls of Madison Mills organized their club the first of the month with an anticipated enrollment of 15 members. Mildred McCoy, a junior at Ohio State University in the home economics department, will act as leader and advisor for this club.

The girls in this particular club will have both clothing and nutrition projects. The first few meetings will be at the school building with the next meeting on May 11 or 12.

The officers elected for the club were: president, Jean Kelly; vice-president, Eleanor Riley; secretary, Donna Belle Shonk-wiler; news reporter, Barbara Lee Clark and recreation leader, Donna Mae Craig.

VICTORIOUS STITCHERS

After the meeting, it was announced that a club picnic would be held after the next meeting, May 9, with all members urged to attend.

YATESVILLE CLUB FORMED
The newly organized Willing-To-Do 4-H club of Yatesville is going to hold its meeting in the school building there because of Mrs. Mabel Cannon was chosen as the club's leader.

The officers are: president, Eloise Stephenson; vice president, Donna Lee McCoy; secretary-treasurer, Bobby Lee Bowen; reporter, Eleanor Looker and recreation leaders, Donna Barton and Bonnie Bowen.

The first meeting at the school house was tapered off with games followed with ice cream bars.

OFFICERS ELECTED

Marlyn Wilt is the new president of the Rural Recreation Group with Edward Davis vice president. They were elected at the group's last meeting along with the following other officers: secretary, Martha Lou Nisley; treasurer, Kattie Armbrust; news reporter, Lois Cavinee; music director, Robert Browning and sports director, James Wolfe. The vote for Lois Cavinee and Lorie Merritt for music director ended in a tie. Another vote will be taken at the next meeting. Each of the new officers gave brief "thank you" responses.

There was some discussion on the question of how often meetings should be held during the duration of the war and the tire conservation need but, no decision was reached.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up at night. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

FIGHT PUT UP BY CORREGIDOR FORCES NOT IN VAIN

VALUABLE TIME GIVEN TO ALLIES TO CHECK JAPS

Surrender of Gallant Force Can Hardly Be Considered In Light of Defeat

By DEWITT MACKENZIE (Wide World News Service)

The fall of Corregidor at long last gives the Japanese use of the strategic naval base of Manila over which this little Gibraltar stood such gallant guard, but the delay imposed on the enemy program of advance by the brilliant defense of Bataan and Corregidor has been of inestimable value to the Allies in the preparation of the all-important defenses of Australia and otherwise getting set for action.

Manila with its defenses was the barrier which the Japs had to crash in order to perfect their attenuated sea communications with the homeland and permit them to race onward towards Indonesia and Australia. Had they not been halted in the Philippines, Australia might long ago have experienced invasion.

One finds it difficult to look upon the surrender of the rock of Corregidor as a defeat. Not only has it made an invaluable contribution to Allied arms but, as President Roosevelt said in his message to General Wainwright:

"You and your devoted followers have become the living symbols of our war aims and the guarantee of victory."

Surely the inspiration which has come to all the Allied peoples from the defense of Bataan and Corregidor is a victory whose value it would be hard to over-estimate.

Wainwright and his men never had a chance to win through against the overwhelming striking power of the attacking Japanese. That the defense held out so long—28 days of fierce siege—is an amazing circumstance which will form one of the striking pages of American history. Our men were without air protection and under a merciless cross fire from heavy artillery on both sides of the harbor. They had run short of ammunition and food. They must have been in a state of physical collapse when the Japanese swarmed

Class Meeting
Members of the Wesleyan class of the First Methodist Church assembled in the dining room of the church Thursday evening. A covered dish supper was served at seven o'clock, ashore and enforced surrender. Corregidor was in a powerful position. Most of its important defenses were, as in the case of mighty Gibraltar, hewn out of the interior of the rock. Together with its three companion islands—Caballo, El Fraile and Carabao, all of which possess forts—it dominated the great Bay of Manila and prevented one of the world's finest harbors from being used by the Japanese.

Lack of adequate air defense was one of the main causes of our undoing in the Philippines, and the same was true of Malaya, Singapore and Indonesia. Corregidor's rocky strength couldn't offset that disadvantage. Unlike Bataan, there was no way in which further aid could be got to our forces in Manila Bay. The Japanese so completely dominated the air and the sea that relief on any considerable scale was impossible.

Mrs. Alta Dwyer serving as chairman of the social committee. A program of music was presented by Mrs. W. H. Griffith, Mrs. Dale Murray and Mrs. Frank Ferneau Mrs. Dwyer and Mrs. John Winegar sponsored contests for entertainment during the social hour.

Countywide Campaign for Junk Gains Momentum

METAL, RUBBER RAGS AND PAPER ARE ALL NEEDED

Patriotism Appealed To but It Can Be Sold at Good Price for Cash

America needs all of that old junk that you have and don't want, to make ships, tanks, guns, bullets and even airplanes with which to fight and win a war against Japs and Heineys.

And, a campaign to see that it gets into the country's war industries is now gathering momentum in Washington C. H. and Fayette County.

Maynard Craig, who has been named county chairman of the salvage division of the Office of Production Management, a war-born federal agency, has made it plain that this is not a "drive" of the here-and-there variety but rather that it is to be a sustained campaign for the duration of the war.

Broadly, America's war factories need scrap metal (iron, copper, zinc and lead), rubber (anything that has rubber in it and no piece too small), old rags and waste paper. The metal and rubber go into ships, tanks, airplanes and guns. The old rags are processed and made into "thousands of things," Craig said and mentioned such as guns shell loading, water-proof cartons for trans-oceanic shipment; reams of paper for military orders and correspondence and important records. There is a definite paper shortage, he said. Steel mills, he added, are not able to keep pace with ship, plane and tank production and American imports of raw rubber from the Far East have been virtually cut off by the war in the Pacific.

The government does not care how this waste material gets to the war production plants, Craig said. And, neither does the county committee. The main thing, he declared, is to see that it gets there. It can either be sold direct to junk dealers here or, when a plan is arranged, it can be turned over to collectors who will get it to the dealers.

Most of this scrap or junk, as it is more commonly called, is bringing comparatively high prices now. The dealers can fix their own buying prices, Craig said, but the price at which they sell is set by the government.

The chairman has been holding conferences with the junk dealers here and, while he did not go into detail concerning the discussions, he did say that they "are all co-operating" in the campaign and are moving scrap material of all kinds to the war plants "as rapidly as possible." The government, he added, is insisting that this junk be kept moving.

Just how the campaign will develop depends on the response of the people, the chairman said, but he made it plain there would be no high-pressure or any prowling around to see whether the government's plea was being accepted. Although old scrap material can be converted into cash, patriotism and the will to help the country's fighting forces win a war is being counted on as the most potent incentive for gathering it up and taking it to the junk dealers.

In the city, collections are to be made periodically by the recently organized Junior Civic Council under the supervision of the committee. In the country, the situation is so much broader it presents a different problem. In Washington C. H., city trucks are to be used and, it was said, the collections probably will be handled by school districts. In the villages of the county, similar plans probably will be worked out, it was said. But, in the rural districts—and most of the scrap iron is on the farms—the farmers themselves are being counted on to get the junk out of their way and into dealers who will turn it into war materials.

Junk dealers, Craig said, estimate that on the average the county over, there are 500 pounds of scrap iron on every farm. This in spite of the tremendous amount of it that was brought to the junk yards during the period immediately after the attack on Pearl Harbor through the campaign conducted by the USDA War Board.

As one approach to the campaign for getting this scrap off the farms and into war materials, Supt. W. J. Hilty of the county's school system, has sent the following letter to all superintendents and principals in the system:

"The urgent need to reclaim used rubber is self evident. Our country is desperately in need of rubber. Likewise, other materials which are not now being salvaged as we must in the near future. I know that you are extremely busy, but we must insist that your attention be given to the salvaging of rubber through the schools within the next week. Accordingly, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday (May 11-12-13) are designated for school children to bring the following materials to school: (All materials will be weighed and market prices paid. This is an ideal way to establish or add to a school fund. A truck will call at your school to pick up your collection.)

"Types of miscellaneous rubber articles to be collected are tires, (solid, also bike, baby carriage, play-wagon, lawnmower, wheelbarrow, rubber tires and tubes, all cut-up part of auto tires, including beads and buffings, old patches, boots and reliners), rubber soles, heels, overshoes, boots and shoes, drug sundries such as hot water bottles, rubber gloves, etc., rubberized clothing, bathing caps, shoes, and rubber rain coats, industrial scrap rubber, miscellaneous items such as matting, hose, jar rings, fly swatters, rubber stamps, pads, plumbers' suction cups and hundreds of other articles containing rubber, as well as rubber materials, not serving as old auto tires used for bumpers on boats and docks, children's swings, etc.

"Chairman Maynard Craig has consented to personally appear before school assemblies at high school centers.

"Your wholehearted cooperation represents a patriotic gesture which our country expects and which I know you will gladly make."

To Release Flow Of LIVER BILE

Do This Every Morning For 30 Days
Get a bottle of Kruschen Salts tonight. Start right in tomorrow morning and take as much as will lie on a dime in a glass of water (hot or cold) half an hour before breakfast or in your morning cup of tea or coffee and keep this up for 30 days. Kruschen taken this way helps relieve such symptoms as sick headaches, bowel sluggishness and so-called bilious indigestion when due to insufficient flow of bile from the gall-bladder. You can get Kruschen, a famous English formula made in the U. S. A., at the Downtown Drug Store or any drug store. You must be satisfied or money back.

CONSTIPATION SUFFERERS Note: For an occasional cathartic or purgative, to relieve common constipation, we believe there is nothing better than quick-acting Kruschen in larger doses—try it according to directions on the bottle.

Lyle Whiting, Who's Been Bootin' Them Home at Beulah Park, Has Been Riding Races for Nine Years

COLUMBUS, May 6.—Beulah Park racing fans are now well aware of the riding prowess of one Lyle Whiting. Coming here from Oaklawn Park, Whiting lost no time introducing himself to the patrons of the Grove City course.

In the very first race on opening day, he booted home Tropical Sun, a $66 winner and the long shot in a daily double that paid $1591.20, highest daily double in the history of the track.

Before Lyle had completed his day's toil, he had three other winners, two seconds and a third, finishing in the money with every one of his seven mounts.

Riding four winners in one afternoon, however, is nothing new to Whiting. He has done it several times, he admits. As a matter of fact, he once rode four winners in as many races. That was at Phoenix in 1939.

Lyle is 26 years old and scales 110 pounds. He does not believe that he will get any heavier and it is not necessary for him to reduce in order to make riding weight. "I only have to watch what I eat," he says.

Whiting has a cheering section all his own at Beulah as his wife, son, mother and father are here, too. His mother, Mrs. Floyd Whiting, owns three horses that are stabled at the track—Marching Feet, Tartarus and Iron Plunger. His dad trains the three horses and you have one guess as to the identity of the rider for the stable.

In addition to his connection with the Whiting string, Lyle is free lancing here.

This is his sixth year as a jockey on "recognized" tracks. He rode in the "bushes" for two or three years before he hit the "big time." Although the current meeting, which continues through May 30, marks his first session at Beulah, Lyle has ridden frequently at Thistledown, Detroit and River Downs.

He finished second to Johnny Adams in the jockey race at Thistledown last year and he was the top reinsman at Omaha. He was leading rider at River Downs last fall until he left a week before the meeting ended to ply his trade in Kentucky.

The thought immediately comes to mind that Lyle must have done all right for himself in last year's national riding race. He did. He finished twelfth with 133 winners out of 742 mounts.

Lyle Whiting has come a long way since that day back in 1938 when he registered the first victory of his career aboard McGonigle at Shreveport, La.

The Amish people of Pennsylvania will not be much affected by the halt in sales of automobiles and tires—they have never used them.

Spying- On Sports

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, May 7.—Speaking, perhaps, with a touch of prejudice aroused by recent events, James J. (I always have a story for you) Johnston, argues that there's no such thing as a punch-drunk fighter... Some of the boys reported that Abe Simon's recent retirement was a result of his desire to avoid taking one punch too many... Says Jimmy: "Look at all the sparring partners; look at the guys who used to fight 20 rounds in every fight... Look at all the punches they took... the only ones that act queer had something wrong with them all the time only it didn't show up while they were in fighting shape. They never begin to act punchy until they let themselves get out of condition."... Says Jimmy (does he ever stop?): "By the way, Larry Atkins is here offering $25,000 for Bob Pastor to fight Harry Bobo at Cleveland in June."

Sportpourri

Young Jim Bagby reports that his pappy didn't tell him about pitching.

He says all he learned from Jim, Senior, was how to throw a screwball and that the way to learn how to pitch was by experience... Al Buck, the New York Post fight expert, is due to go into the army soon. Then it'll be a case of Private Buck, Buck Private... When Kjell Qvale, former U. of Washington track captain now a cadet at the Corps Christi, Tex., naval air station, was timed in 9.2 seconds for a 100-yard dash recently, officials decided 9.4 would be a more reasonable time. But they say it wasn't because they didn't believe their eyes but because there was a slight wind at his back.

Today's Guest Star

Jesse Lintinich, Baltimore Sun: "We learn that Ted Szepkowski is a $50,000 find and Shag Shaughnessy is said to have placed that kind of a ticket on him. Gosh, Shag is careless spending the major league's money."

Ladies Win Three Games from Gents In Bowling Match

Paced by Peg, with a 523 three-game total, the Ladies of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. humiliated the gentlemen again in their weekly bowling match here Wednesday night by taking all three games and a wide margin in the total pin score of 2,011 to 1,715.

Last week the gentlemen won the first and last games of the match but they could not stand prosperity. This is not the first time the ladies have made a clean sweep of their matches. The Gentlemen have never been able to achieve that.

Sports Program Cut by Wayne U. For War Duration

DETROIT, May 7.—(AP)—Wayne University, whose 10,000 students make it one of the nation's largest institutions of advanced learning, is ready to eliminate all intercollegiate sports save football and basketball for the war's duration for intensification of mass physical fitness programs.

The university's athletic advisory committee recommended that baseball, track and tennis competition be dropped. Competition in swimming, cross country, golf and fencing previously was abolished. The committee's suggestion is tantamount to official approval.

The committee said it found a decided shortage in coaching and playing talent in minor sports programs and also a decline in attendance.

PITCHING GLORY THUS FAR GOES TO TINY BONHAM

Yanks Go into Lead Behind His Shutout Effort—Only One Game in N. L.

By JUDSON BAILEY (By the Associated Press)

Mr. Big among all the pitchers in the major leagues this year seems likely to be Ernest Edward Bonham of the New York Yankees.

"Tiny" is perfectly cast for the part, because he stands 6 feet 2 and weighs 215 pounds. But more than that he has won the first four games this spring, three by shutouts, and yesterday he subdued the Cleveland Indians 3-0 to return the Yankees to the pinnacle of the American League.

The huge righthander stepped to stardom in the last World Series by browbeating the Brooklyn Dodgers on four hits in the final turbulent game at Ebbets Field.

Since then he has recovered from his lame back, cast off the brace he wore in struggling to a mediocre 9 and 6 record last season, and has become one of the glamor boys of the 1942 pitching parade.

It took Bonham only an hour and 24 minutes to mesmerize the Indians in one of the quickest nine-inning games of the season.

The Indians' five singles were spread into as many different innings and only one Cleveland runner reached second and none went beyond.

It was Cleveland's fourth straight loss after winning 13 in a row and dropped the Tribe into a tie for second with the Boston Red Sox, who nosed out the Chicago White Sox, 3-1.

The latter game was a stirring pitching duel between old Ted Lyons and Joe Dobson, each of whom allowed six hits.

Buck Newsom pushed back into the spotlight by pitching the Washington Senators to a 7-0 shutout of the Detroit Tigers on one hit—a triple by Doc Cramer.

Elden Auker submarined the St. Louis Browns to a 7-2 decision over the Philadelphia Athletics by keeping seven hits scattered.

Only one game was played in the National League. The St. Louis Cardinals plastered an 11-2 defeat on the last place Phils.

Other games were postponed because of the weather.

One-run Defeats Send Chisox on Hunt for Slugger

CHICAGO, May 7.—(AP)—Chicago's luckless White Sox, who have lost 17 games this season—nine by one run—still are on the hunt for a hard hitting outfielder, says Mrs. Grace Comiskey, the club president.

"We've been doing everything possible to get some help," she said. "But because of the uncertainties caused by the war, making deals isn't as easy as it used to be. The teams are keeping extra players around for protection in the event others are called for military service."

The Sox themselves soon may have to part with Johnny Rigney's services. Ordered re-examined recently by his draft board, the pitcher last night was reclassified 1-A. He had been placed in 4-F last June after his rejection by army physicians after reporting for induction. Rigney, who last fall married Miss Dorothy Comiskey, White Sox Treasurer, pitched two of the four victories gained by the Sox this year.

Manager Jimmy Dykes, meanwhile, has decided to do some wholesale benching of his athletes. After yesterday's defeat at New York, Dykes said an entirely new infield of Murrell Jones, Jimmy Webb, Leo Wells and Dario Lodigiani would face Boston today.

a large number of individual students and have large spectator appeal, which is important to morale in war-time," the committee declared. "These sports are governed by agreements already established with other institutions and are also being fostered by the armed services in training camps."

SHUT OUT WILL GO AS FAVORITE IN RICH PREAKNESS THIS WEEK

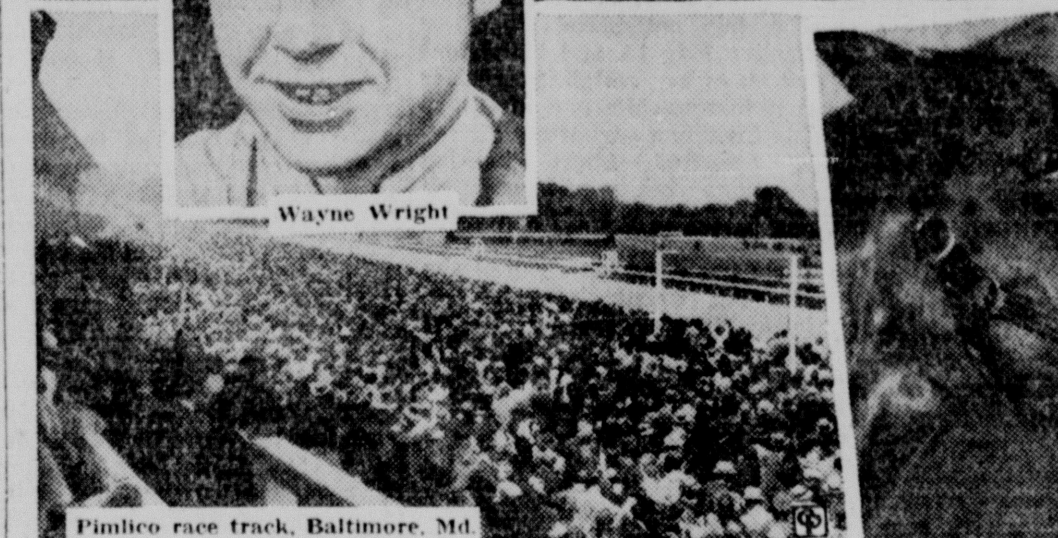

Shut Out, with Arcaro up

Colchis... he didn't go in Derby

Pimlico race track, Baltimore, Md.

Alsab and his owner Al B. Sabath

Another great racing classic, the rich Preakness Stakes at Pimlico race track, Baltimore, Md., is up for decision this week with Shut Out, the Greentree Stable's Kentucky Derby winner, the probable favorite. On Shut Out again will be Wayne Wright, not Eddie Arcaro, who had his choice of either Shut Out or Devil Diver, the other Greentree entry in the Derby, and chose Devil

Diver. Arcaro, shown ironically, on Shut Out before the Derby race was run, plans to ride Devil Diver in the Preakness. Most feared horses in the Preakness are Alsab, the gallant campaigner owned by Al B. Sabath of Chicago; Colchis, who twice took Alsab's measure this year, and Sun Again, from the Warren Wright stable. Neither Colchis nor Sun Again went in the Derby.

Lion-Tiger Game Postponed In Preparation for Tourney

The Blue Lions' ball game with Greenfield's Tigers, which was to have been played Thursday afternoon (today), has been postponed until a later date. The reason for the postponement, Coach Fred Pierson said, was the game with Columbus South Friday afternoon on the East High School diamond at 4 P. M.

This is the first game the Lions play in the central Ohio district class "A" baseball tournament. Eleven teams from this district are taking part in the tourney. The winner in the district will go to the state tournament to try for the state championship.

'Twas Better Than Expected

Lou Boudreau, Boss of Indians, Says It Was Nice To Win 13 Straight but Didn't Expect To Keep It Up

NEW YORK, May 7.—(AP)—Lou Boudreau, Cleveland's leading juvenile had no illusions about his Indians winning the American League flag, even before the Yankees slapped the Tribe out of the leadership yesterday.

"It was nice winning those 13 straight," smiled the 24-year-old manager, "but we didn't quite expect to keep that up. Our goal still is to finish in the first division." (The Indians wound up in a tie with Detroit for fourth place last year.)

"You see," he continued, frankly, "we're not what you would call a balanced club. Our pitching isn't too strong and we're not very fast. After all you can't lose a pitcher like Bob Feller without feeling it, can you? But in some ways we're a better team than last year—better spirit and hustle, anyway."

Boudreau admitted he was feeling the strain of managing the team from his shortstop post, although the averages so far do not disclose that he has lost any of his efficiency.

War Hard on Football And It May Be Dropped

WINFIELD, Kas.—(AP)—The war has made its first inroad on Arkansas Valley football teams. Southwestern College, a power in the Central Conference, probably would drop the sport. Dr. Charles E. Schofield, president-elect, said.

Elmer Riddle for the Reds and Dick Erickson for the Braves are the pitchers.

Southpaw Hurler Bought by Reds

CINCINNATI, May 7.—(AP)—The Cincinnati Reds announced today purchase of Clyde Shoun, left-handed hurler, from the St. Louis Cardinals. Shoun, a veteran 27-year old, will report here immediately.

At the same time the club made known the sale of hurler Lloyd "Whitey" Moore to Rochester of the International League and the acquisition of Outfielder Max Marshall from Columbus of the American Association in return for Outfielder Jim Gleason, an option on Third Sacker Chuck Aleno and cash.

JAPS NOW SET TO STRIKE AT AUSTRALIA, HAWAII, CHINA AND EVEN ALASKA (Continued from Page One)

velopments on the Russo-German front.

3. An assault on Australia itself probably designed to wipe out north coast bases for Allied offensive action.

4. Raids in force, if not full scale attacks, against either Hawaii or Alaska or both because of their offensive threat.

5. The conquest of India, or at least its eastern coastal areas and sections near Burma, an undertaking which might well depend on whether the Japanese could expect a friendly or an actively hostile populace.

More Reverses Likely The mere magnitude of these possibilities suggests, military men said, that before the United Nations can turn the tide of war in the Pacific they must expect to suffer heavy new blows. For some time yet their own offensive thrusts appear destined to be limited to aerial actions.

On the Burma war front, Chinese military dispatches acknowledged that Japan's invasion armies pushing up the Burma Road had driven almost 25 miles into China proper after capturing the Chinese town of Whiting, on the China-Burma frontier.

Bitter fighting was reported raging as the American Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's outnumbered Chinese troops sought to stem the Japanese tide sweeping through China's back door.

On the right flank, Gen. Harold Alexander's weary British troops were reported still falling back toward India.

It is the likelihood of these increasing aerial actions, however, that must be of primary concern to the Japanese and if they actually have reason to suspect, as they once said they did, that the planes which bombed Tokyo landed on fields in China then an attempt to knock out those fields would be a logical move.

Against this dark prospect in the Pacific, many experts were inclined to balance several brighter elements in the European picture. Chief among these were Britain's American-backed aerial offensive against Germany and Germany's own failure to make good her spring offensive threats.

Whether air operations will lead to the development of a second land front is an open question but authorities here would not be surprised if Commando attacks increased in number and intensity until the whole of the northern coast was in unceasing danger of devastating lightning blows.

In a windup report on the Corregidor flotilla, the Navy reported late yesterday that there were 3,845 officers and men of the Navy and Marine Corps in the island fortress when it fell. It also disclosed that five small naval vessels were lost.

GRAIN MARKET NEWS SUMMARY

CHICAGO, May 7.—(AP)—Registering gains of about 1 1/2 cents at one stage, wheat prices today reached highs unequaled here since April 13. Corn was up a cent to tops for the last two weeks. May soybeans gained as much as 3 cents.

Buying that appeared in the grain pits was touched off largely by the advance in soybeans, which reflected upward revision of certain cottonseed oil prices effective May 11, and indications that an order restating ceilings on numerous fats and oils, possibly including soybean oil, is being prepared. Short covering operations were in evidence in all pits and mills were reported more active in wheat.

sarily pushing people around to satisfy the egotism of some bureaucrats," the Colorado senator declared. "The American people are anxious to make any sacrifices essential to the war effort, but they are getting tired of being pushed around."

With somewhat the same attitude, Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said he believed the objective could be accomplished by voluntary appeals to motorists to sell to the government any unneeded tires they had and to exercise care with those on their cars.

Chairman Reynolds (D-NC) predicted the committee would approve the legislation Saturday despite this opposition.

Retailers Meet Friday To Discuss Price Ceiling

AGENT OF OPA TO COME HERE TO CONFERENCE

800 Merchants from Three Adjoining Counties To Attend Gathering

All retail merchants and other business men of Washington C. H. and Fayette County who are in any way affected by the price ceiling regulations established by the federal government are urged to be present at the meeting scheduled for Memorial Hall on East Court Street, Friday at 8 P. M.

This meeting which also will be attended by retailers of Wilmington, Xenia, Hillsboro and Greenfield, was called by order of the Office of Price Administration through its regional headquarters in Cleveland.

A federal government official of the OPA will be present to outline and explain the regulations and probably will answer questions which merchants may ask regarding this government action.

City Manager Edwin Ducey has been asked by the OPA to act as chairman of the meeting and will introduce the government speaker. The business people of the other cities in this district have been notified in order that they may have opportunity to participate in the meeting.

The new price ceiling regulations go into effect on May 18 and the meeting here is one of 39 district meetings in Ohio to acquaint dealers with the government's requirements.

Plans have been made in Washington C. H. to cut off all parking places on East Court Street between the intersections with Fayette and North Streets. The parking places in this block will be made available for out of the city visitors who attend this meeting and whose motor cars will be designated by an OPA sticker on the windshields.

DEFENSE FUNDS ALLOCATED BY BUDGET BOARD

Fayette County Gets $2,741 From State To Be Used On Civilian Set-up

The Fayette County Budget Commission composed of Auditor Roy Baughn, Treasurer Willis McCoy and Prosecutor John B. Hill, at a meeting in the county auditor's office Wednesday night, took official action to allocate civilian defense funds recently allotted to Fayette County, between the Jeffersonville Civilian Defense Council and the Washington C. H. Civilian Defense Council.

Both of these councils have state approved charters and the Washington C. H. Council has been delegated to take care of civilian defense work in this city and all other parts of the county outside of the Jeffersonville Council's area which includes Jefferson Township and a small part of Paint Township.

The total amount of money sent to this county for civilian defense expense was $2,741.14. There is no definite direction from the state as to how this money is to be spent other than that it is for civilian defense purposes and must be accounted for to the state.

Arriving at a decision based on populations of the two districts involved and also on the taxable property basis, the budget commission allocated $320.76 to the Jeffersonville Council and the balance to the Washington C. H. Council amounting to $2,420.38.

The Jeffersonville Defense Council was represented in the meeting by Mayor Roman Wright, Jr., C. E. Stuckey, Warren Williams and John Robbins. Washington C. H. Council was represented by the members of the council's executive committee, composed of Edwin Ducey, A. B. Murray, Rell G. Allen and Forest F. Tipton.

The money, earmarked for civilian defense, it was decided, will be paid out from the city treasury in Washington C. H., and the village treasury in Jeffersonville only upon order of the defense councils in these two areas.

The Washington council's executive committee held a meeting later and decided that it would request that a budget be submitted from each committee of the council, estimating any expenses to which such committee probably would be subjected in the duties it will be called upon to perform. Each of these budgets will go before the executive committee for the approval of such items as are deemed necessary for emergency measures or other definite requirements at this time. No salaries are to be paid out of this fund for any purpose.

ORGANIZED LABOR UNDER DISCUSSION

Union Township Farmers Express Selves

Organized labor was the foremost topic of discussion of the Union Township Farm Bureau Council this month.

After expressions from the group members, council went on record as opposing alignment with all unions other than the affiliation with agricultural organizations.

The national cooperative radio programs were then discussed. The group favoring educational and informative programs.

Workmen's Compensation Insurance was briefly discussed. This meeting was held at the attractive new home of the Kauffman's on the McCoy road, with Walter Engle, chairman and Mrs. Clara Campbell, discussion leader.

After refreshments were served, all enjoyed a social hour, and inspected the many conveniences of the new home.

Only on approval of bills by the executive committee will any funds be paid out of the newly acquired defense fund in the city treasury.

Another meeting of the executive committee of the Washington Civilian Defense Council has been called for the next Tuesday night at the city building to go over the budget and to make further plans in organization activities of the council here. Meantime special police officers will call upon homes in the city to give literature and instructions regarding air raid precautions.

CHAPEL SPONSORED BY SEVEITH-Y CLUB

Civilian Defense Sidelights Given WHS Students

The opening exercises and an educational motion picture were presented by the Seveith-Y Club in the high school auditorium as a sidelight of the civilian defense and war preparedness program.

The program opened with the members of the club, seventh and eighth grade girls, reciting John Oxenham's "The Ways," and some verses from the Bible, Matthew 5:13-16. The speaking choir was directed by Connie Kaufman. A short story, "A Bit of Glass," was then told by Barbara Clickner. Mary Louise Anderson led the prayer and Priscilla Babbitt led the salute to the flag.

A three-reel movie which concerned all of the diseases which arise during wartime and during the preparation for war was shown. Treatment followed for the diseases and also methods of preventing them. The students were also told that these afflictions took almost as many lives as war itself.

JOHN FREDERICK TO BE ORDAINED AT CHURCH HERE

Services To Be Held Sunday Morning at South Side Church of Christ

John H. Frederick, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Frederick of near Washington C. H., will be ordained to the ministry Sunday morning, at the South Side Church of Christ.

Frederick graduates from the Cincinnati Bible Seminary in June, where he has been a student for the past four years. For the past several months, in addition to his regular class work, he has been preaching at South Salem, Ind. and Mt. Washington, Ohio.

W. Mark Miller, an evangelist of Newport, Ky., will have a part in the ordination service. Special music will be furnished by Seminary students who will accompany Frederick for the occasion.

The evening service will be in charge of the Seminary students who will present a varied musical program. Miss Jean Rothel of Cincinnati will speak.

All who attend the morning service are invited to share in a basket dinner to be held in the church basement at the noon hour.

'QUINCE WINTER' HAS ARRIVED AS USUAL

"Quince winter," the cold snap that invariably occurs early in May, arrived this week and is continuing to cause considerable discomfort.

Many farmers wait until after the cool weather of early May before planting their corn.

This year "Quince winter" opened with a pronounced frost, and the cool weather may continue for a day or two.

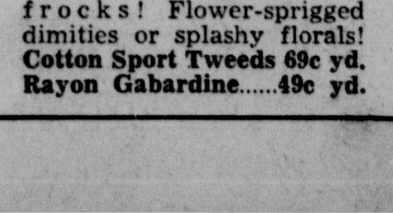

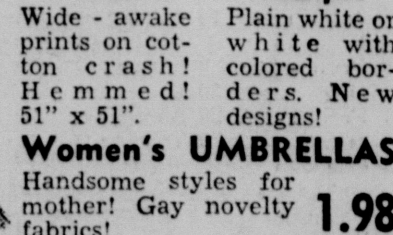

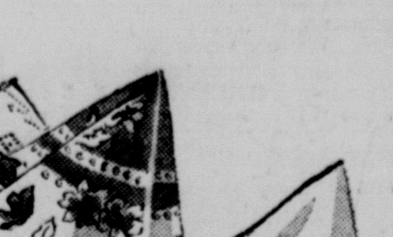

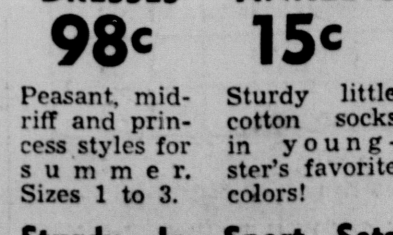

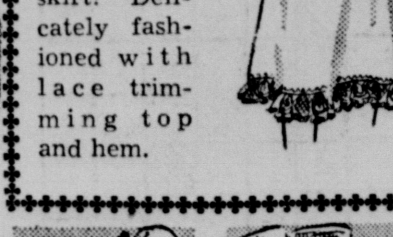

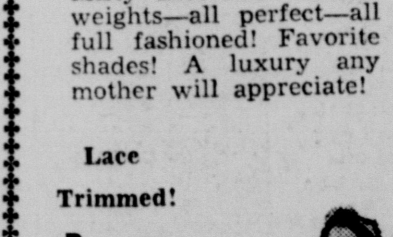

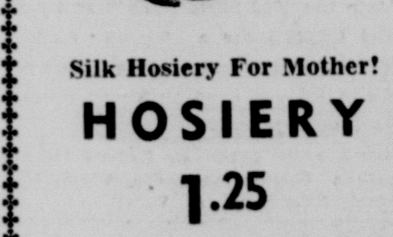

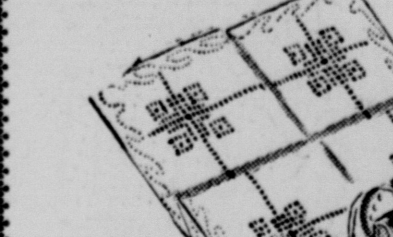

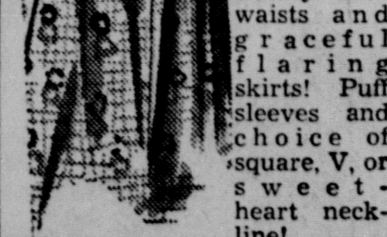

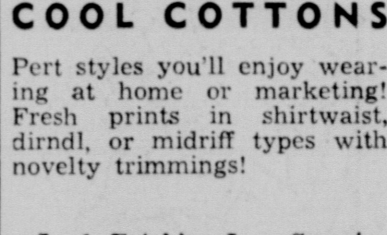

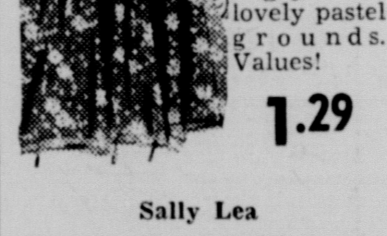

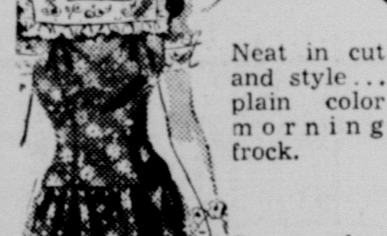

GOOD HOPE MEETING

Citizens of the Good Hope community will meet Friday night at 8 P. M. in the Junior Hall for the purpose of making plans for Memorial Day, and a large attendance is urged.
